ATMP Facilities

Your commitment drives our passion for cleaner environments.

When it comes to a person's life, there is no room for error. At Contec, we see this every day with the ATMP manufacturers we work with. Their passion, devotion and commitment is something to be admired. This drives our passion to assist these facilities with their contamination control challenges and to work side-by-side to ensure the best outcomes for their patients.

At Contec, we are more than a company that manufactures the cleaning products facilities need. We are the people working behind the scenes to ensure every area of the facility is taken into consideration. From cleaning and disinfecting biosafety cabinets and equipment to mopping ceilings, walls and floors, Contec develops the most appropriate products to get the job done easily and efficiently while maintaining compliance. Many ATMP products are manufactured in aseptic environments which can be difficult to clean and disinfect without the right tools. We know how challenging the qualification process can be. That's why our products are supported by validation packages and technical expertise.

We continue to support our customers after the sale through training and best practice recommendations. We pride ourselves on innovation and collaborating with customers to develop what is needed for their specific application. We treat new applications and customer needs as a challenge to our R&D capabilities, and we are excited to meet that challenge.

Contec has the largest, most experienced sales team in the critical environment industry and a technical support team with more than 100 years providing contamination control solutions. Contec industry experts provide unmatched technical seminars and customer training. With sales representatives all over the world, our customers benefit from personalized service, an abundant sample offering and fast order turnaround. Contec offers manufacturing on three continents to make sure our customers get what they need as fast as possible.

Our Contec team is excited about the ATMP market and is driven by the passion our customers have. We want to work with these facilities to support their success and the outcomes of their patients today and for years to come.
